

Anita Broad MA - Freelance Oral History Trainer

Inspired by her own family history, Anita is a qualified and experienced oral history trainer delivering interactive workshops to community groups and schools.

Since achieving her master's degree in Oral History and Life History Research at University of Sussex in 2010, Anita has delivered training on oral history over a wide range of different projects.

When not delivering oral history training workshops Anita is a busy Independent Family Celebrant conducting weddings, funerals and everything in between and a qualified sports coach too!
